Tips for Care Partners - Quick Stress Relieving Techniques

Organization Alzheimer's Society

Service Description

As we continue to navigate our way through these uncertain times, it can be easy to feel overwhelmed, which can lead to feeling more stressed than we are used to. We have put together some 'sense' focused techniques to allow you to destress.

1. SIGHT

- Look at a photo or picture that means something to you.
- Find beauty in nature, wildlife, your backyard, and flowers.
- Close your eyes and picture a place that makes you feel good.

. SMELL

- Take joy inhaling the scent of fresh coffee or tea.
- o Put on your favourite perfume or cologne.
- Light a scented candle.
- Bake a fragrant treat.

. TOUCH

- Place a blanket or scarf around your shoulders to feel cozy.
- Find a texture that makes you feel good and spend time playing with it.
- Wear soft clothing.
- Give yourself a hand massage.

. TASTE

- Indulge in your sense of taste by consuming food mindfully and in moderation.
- Enjoy healthy crunchy snack like carrots, celery, or nuts.
- Sip on a hot beverage.
- Cut your food into smaller pieces to help savour the taste.

. MOVEMENT

- Get going! It doesn't matter what, but a simple shoulder shimmy or tapping your feet is a good place to start!
- Flex and extend your hands and feet.
- Put on some music and dance around.
- Go for a walk around the house or march on the spot until you feel lighter.

. SOUND

- Immerse yourself in what you can hear. For example, traffic passing, people talking, the fridge humming.
- Listen to your favourite music.
- Call or listen to someone whose voice you find soothing.
- Chime into the sounds of nature. The sound of the ocean, rainforest, or birds singing. Each offer beautiful imagery too!
